PROFILE

Health Informatics Technology student at Centennial College with three years of hands-on hospital volunteering and foundational experience in EHR systems, software development, and AI. As a certified IB graduate and Ontario Scholar, I bring a unique blend of clinical exposure and emerging tech skills, paired with a genuine commitment to patient-centred care and health innovation. As a Student Ambassador, I've developed strong public speaking and interpersonal skills leading campus tours and representing the college at large-scale events, and I served as a Student Leader on a service trip to the Philippines. My retail experience has further strengthened my ability to work independently and collaboratively in fast-paced environments.
